Peary Ready for North Pole Dash.

PORTLAND (Me.), August 5.—Commander Robert E. Peary left here today for New York, whence he will sail in a few days on an expedition to the North Pole. Commander Peary said today:

From New York I shall go direct to Sydney, C. B., where I shall coal, and there will be no stops on the way, as I have no time to lose.

"My crew this time will be practically the same as on my last trip. Captain Robert Bartlett is to command the Roosevelt. I am going prepared to make every effort to reach the Pole. If I do not succeed next summer I shall stay over a year. If I do not succeed I shall stay one year later. I am taking along everything for a three years' trip."

Commander Peary, giving some details of his plans, said:

"John Murphy, my old boatswain, is to be with me again. I am to have Wardwell, my old chief engineer; Ross G. Marvin of Bucksport is to be my assistant, and he will be the only Maine member of the party. I am to have a new surgeon. There are several applications for the position, but as yet no one has been chosen. I will settle that when I get to New York."

CALLS SUCCESS DOUBTFUL.

Asked if he expected to reach the Pole this time, Peary said:

"A man who has had an experience in the North knows that to say that he will do a certain thing up there is madness. I have learned many lessons from my other trips, and especially my last one, and I shall profit by all this experience. Whether I shall find the North Pole or not is a question which will not be answered until I have either reached it or failed."

Asked if he had ample funds for carrying out the expedition, Commander Peary replied:

"I will say one thing, and that is, that the delays in repairs on the hullers of the Roosevelt have been and are now worrying me a great deal more than the money with which to finance the expedition."

Commander Peary appeared today to be in rugged health and was full of enthusiasm for the trip.

Ex-Queen, Holds Court in Asylum.

New York, August 5.—A daughter of John H. Flagler, the New York millionaire, a social leader in New York and Paris and once the reigning queen of Trinidad, Baroness Anna Harden-Hickey, has been committed to a private sanitarium for the insane at Stamford, Conn.

Seventeen years ago when she was young and sought in marriage wherever she appeared, a Frenchman, Baron Harden-Hickey, of doubtful lineage and more precarious fortune, made love to her one day in Paris and married her shortly afterward, while her millionaire father frowned upon the compact. Harden-Hickey set sail on a roving cruise and landed upon the unknown Isle of Trinidad, in the Caribbean Sea.

He proclaimed himself King of the new founded nation, set up a court about him, appointed Ministers and made them bow to Anna Flagler Harden-Hickey as their Queen. In 1895 a well-known international intriguer in which the United States was remotely concerned robbed him of the Trinidadian crown and every other he ever hoped to wear.

He died some years later in Paris. His queen, the former New York society girl, was overcome with grief. She too had had ambition to be a "World empress," and her hopes, shattered with her husband's death, nearly wrecked her mind in a few months. To save it she plunged into the wildest pleasures of the European resorts. These developed excesses.

Finally, with half her great fortune wrecked and nothing to live for in a "queenless" world, she returned to New York. For five years she has lived here quietly, but with her reason tottering.

Mr. Flagler was appealed to to control her estate and the courts at Stamford secretly committed her to a private sanitarium near that city. Mrs. Harden-Hickey is not violent, but her nurses declare that she continually poses as a sovereign and compels them to robe her in stately gowns, and she issues orders as Queen of the Trinidad Islands.

E.O. HALL & SON, Ltd.

HONOLULU.

Made Coin for Breckons.

For about a week past one of the cleverest and evidently most dangerous counterfeiters in the country has been engaged in making a set of dies right here in Honolulu. In fact the work has been going on literally under the very eyes of the Federal authorities, for the man who has been doing it is a prisoner, and the work he is doing is simply to show the officers that he knows his business.

Kim Bong Chon is the name of the coiner. He is a Korean, and was recently captured on Hawaii through the efforts of United States Marshal Hendry. After being brought to Honolulu he came through with his connection with the making of the large quantity of spurious ten dollar gold pieces which have been causing so much trouble on the Big Island, and confessed the whole game. District Attorney Breckons expressed incredulity regarding his ability to "make the money he claims to have done, and forthwith the Korean's professional pride was spurred, and he offered to demonstrate his skill if given the opportunity.

District Attorney Breckons there upon made arrangements for him to prove himself, and right well he has done it. The result of about a week's work with a hammer and some files and other simple materials which were furnished him, is a set of as pretty dies of a ten-dollar piece as one would want to see.

Kim Bong Chon was first allowed to use materials and space in Wickman's jewelry store, and his remarkable skill with tools was a great surprise to all who saw him. Afterwards he was fitted out with a bench in a room of the Marshal's office, where under guard he has daily prosecuted his work until the present time.

The dies which the Korean has made are of copper or bronze, which he has some secret method of hardening. They are certainly very nearly perfect, and the fact that the money he turned out before he was captured was lacking only in the matter of ring and weight, showed to what perfection he had attained. With a more perfect imitation of metal his coins would have been almost impossible to detect. He claims that with the dies he has made he would be able to turn out from $25,000 to $30,000 worth per day.

The Korean is small and wiry of stature, and of rather prepossessing appearance. He has evidently had expert training in the use of tools, although he refused to say much about his past. He has been very free in confessing all his late doings, taking the chief blame on himself, and exonerating most of the half dozen men who have lately been arrested as being connected with the coining. — Star.

Thirty Killed in Lodz Street Riots.

Lodz (Russia), August 1.—This city today was again the scene of a strike movement, accompanied by violence, disorder and death. Troops encountered the strikers in the center of town and thirty men were killed or wounded. Business is at a standstill.

The strike is serious. It would appear to be the beginning of a big labor war, and the workmen's unions are prepared for a long struggle. The immediate cause of the outbreak yesterday was the course pursued by the police in the past eight days in making a large number of arrests in an attempt to break up the union. The principal Socialist leaders have been thrown into jail. The police have been so energetic in their measures against the unions that they have united the Socialists, the Polish Socialists and the Nationalists parties, who up to the present time have been warring a merciless war, accompanied by daily murders and outrages among themselves.

The committee of the Amalgamated Unions has ordered that all business in Lodz cease. Stores have been told to close and the power house of the electric traction system has been shut down. The committee is enforcing its orders with armed men and several shopkeepers who refused to shut has been shot.

Yesterday bands of laborers were sent out in the city to wreck street cars. This they did in a number of cases and later they used the cars as barricades from which to stone the police.
